For all COFA postgraduates – do you sometimes feel you need some advice or assistance?

The UNSW Postgraduate Board will be providing a fortnightly Advocacy Service to COFA Postgraduate Students to assist with any issues affecting your studies.

The Postgraduate Board has appointed Amrita Dasvarma as the Advocacy/Campaigns Officer, to assist and work with postgraduate students at UNSW to resolve arising issues and concerns. This can be anything from advice with academic issues, such as assessment or difficulties with your study, to administrative problems such as enrolment or funding, to personal problems such as harassment or need for special consideration.

Amrita will be providing a fortnightly outreach advocacy service to COFA postgraduate students at the COFA Students' Association, starting on Wednesday April 9 2003, between 3-5 pm. Drop in or make an appointment. Check below for the dates for Outreach Service in Session 1 2003.

Alternatively, you can also see Amrita at the Kensington campus. Amrita's office is located just off the Postgraduate Lounge, Room 1017, level 1, Quadrangle Building, and you can make an appointment to see Amrita either by calling 02 9385 6713, or e-mail: a.dasvarma@pgb.unsw.edu.au.
